

HOUSTONIANS CAN BANK ON GETTING MONEY SMART DURING MONEY WEEK HOUSTON

More than 250 financial literacy leaders from Texas and across the nation converge on Houston the week of September 14 – 20, 2008.

HOUSTON – This country is in the worse financial shape anyone has seen in years. During Money Week Houston, Houstonians will get FREE advice on not only surviving this rough financial climate, but learn how to prosper in it.

During the week of September 14 – 20, 2008, there will be dozens of city-wide classes, seminars and activities promoting financial education. This week is geared toward young and old. Money Week will teach everyone from school children to senior citizens of all races how to better manage their personal finances and avoid financial pitfalls.

Financial experts and everyday Houstonians who have learned how to be money smart are available for interviews.

Money Week Houston is a member of the FDIC Alliance for Economic Inclusion. For more information and calendar of events, go to www.moneyweekhouston.org.
